Helpful products, tips & ideas

This months helpful PTI is a folding dolly (AKA a personal hand truck).

This is a great product for every woman to have. It folds flat for super easy storage and can be used for multiple heavy chores around the house, apartment and office. It's a great time and back saver... Don't lift it just let it roll!

Here are a few ways this little dolly has helped me out: moving dog food, water and other heavy items from the car to house! Inside it's been great moving books and small furniture pieces. Outside I've used it to move heavy pots and soil around the yard. In regards to work, it's great for getting items to and from events and trade shows. Basically just handy to have around the office!

They suggest it's good for flights - which seems like a great idea although I haven't used it for that purpose.

Ours was purchased from Costco.
